

‘Kingfisher is best in India, Central Asia’

LONDON: The Vijay Mallya-promoted Kingfisher Airlines has been voted the best carrier in India and the whole of Central Asia by a global survey carried out by industry consultancy Skytrax. According to a report by the London-based Skytrax, Kingfisher Airlines got the honours under three categories — the best airline in India and Central Asia, the best economy class seats, and excellent staff service. Skytrax announced the results after a survey among 18 million flyers from 100 different countries that was carried out between July 2009 and April 2010.
